Brothers,

On the weekend of April 20-22, 2007, Arrowman from all over the State of Indiana, from some neighboring states, and from across our Region will gather on the beautiful campus of Vincennes University for the Section C-2C Conclave. This year's conclave will be a little different from years past. On Friday night, we will have a party instead of an opening show. We will play music, games, and have fun. The theme of the evening is Super Heroes. Please come dressed to impress as there will be a best dressed competition. Saturday's schedule will be mostly the same as previous Conclaves. We will have training cells, Meet-the-Man sessions, the VIA luncheon, and afternoon activities. We will also have the Native American Village, ceremony evaluations for individuals, and religious services. To end the evening, we will have a pie auction, in which you will get to throw pies at Section Leadership, a patch auction, and of course, the theme show. This weekend will have many highlights, including our Region Chief, Don Hough, who will participate in one of the Meet-the-Man sessions, and the highly anticipated Cook-Off Competition, which will make its return this weekend. We will also be revealing and using the new Lodge Participation Award, which you will learn more about when you arrive in Vincennes.

The theme of the weekend is We Didn't Start the Fire, But We Keep It Burning. I hope that many of you will attend this weekend of Fellowship, and keep alive the spirit that Dr. E. Urner Goodman and Col. Carroll A. Edson sparked over 90 years ago!

Yours in the Wimachtendienk,

Tom James
Section C-2C Vice Chief

Deadline Extended for Conclave Late Fee

Section has extended the date on late fees for Conclave registration to April 16th! Take advantage of this deal and register now for the Conclave! The Registration Form is on page 3.

APRIL LEC Moved to April 15th

Due to Conclave being held at Vincennes University in Southern Indiana, the April LEC will be held on Sunday, April 15th rather than at the Conclave. Mark your calendars!

Plan Book Revisions Proposed

Jon Sowers, Chairman of the Plan Book Committee, presented a list of proposed revisions to the Lodge Plan Book at the March LEC. The LEC was given a copy of the list of revisions and of the Plan Book with revisions. That list of revisions may be found on page 6 and on the Lodge website. The entire Plan Book in its current and proposed forms may also be found on the website.

Lodge Chief's Talking Feather

Brother Arrowmen,

I hope that you all have had a great spring break. Many of you have just entered our order of brotherhood. I welcome you on behalf of the Jaccos Towne Lodge Executive Committee (LEC). I call for all our new members to become active in their chapter and our lodge. There are many ways a new member can become active. We are always looking for new youth members for ceremonies teams as others age out. Furthermore, I encourage you in 10 months to fulfill the Obligation and become a Brotherhood member of our order.

I ask you to consider coming to the 2007 C2-C Section Conclave at the beautiful Vincennes University on April 20-22. There are many amazing activities planned. Some of the activities are: Friday night gathering/party, shows, training cells, games, trivia, euchre games, patch trading, the always amazing Patch Auction, and our Wundchenneu Chapter Educational Performance Team! All of this packed into a weekend of fellowship with Arrowmen from around the section.

Next, I invite you personally to our next lodge event - the Fall Fellowship on the September 21-23, 2007 at Camp Bear Creek. This is a great event together where we pretty much just chill and have a fun time. At the Fall Fellowship, we will play games and make something to take home (bead working, chokers, moccasin, medicine bags are some of the things we have done in the past). We will also be electing the 2008 lodge officers.

The Lodge Executive Committee meetings have been great this year. I encourage all to come to these meetings and have a part in the actions and decisions of the lodge. It is great to have input from all of the chapters of the lodge. We have an awesome group of guys as chiefs this year so keep up the good work!

Summer is a great time to remember the first obligation of the Arrowmen is to his or her troop. So this summer, and for the rest of your Scouting life, give back to those who choose you to be members of our honor society. Also, help with those who look up to you - the little boys in blue (Cub Scouts). Whether you know it or not, what they see you do helps them make their decision to cross on in to Boy Scouts. Have a safe and fun summer.

Yours in the Wingolauchsik,

Tommy Gregory

The future of Crossroads of America Council Where is the council headed?

You may have recently heard a buzz around Boy Scout meetings about some of the exciting changes in store for Crossroads of America Council. Yes, there are very exciting changes that will take place in the next several years; changes that will positively affect all of our 50,000 members in central Indiana.

Growth in Crossroads of America Council

Did you know that in the past 10 years, total membership in Scouting in central Indiana has increased by 60%? This membership increase is a testament to our over 10,000 adult volunteers and the quality of programs that they are providing for Scouts.

More members and volunteers means a strain on facilities and resources. Crossroads of America Council has been hard at work to address this issue and has innovative plans to increase the use of program space for all involved in Scouting. Some of these changes will include the addition of space and improvements to council facilities, such as Camp Belzer and Camp Krietenstein. It will also include a shift in the way that the council interacts with its volunteers, which will include using technology to allow Scout leaders to transmit Scouting business in a more efficient way, and be able to spend time in Scouting on what's important - the youth.

Here is additional information on some of these exciting changes in the council.

Recently, the council's Board of Directors (which includes youth and adult leaders, including Order of the Arrow representative Tom James) approved the following:

- ✿ the decision to move forward with a major gifts campaign with a preliminary goal of $16 million to be spent on the following:
 - ✿ Scoutreach: this campaign will allow the council to maintain our current ScoutReach program and develop new initiative for the future. ScoutReach serves 9,800 youth in hard to serve areas of the council, and includes special program enhancements, including, when necessary, paid program aides, uniform assistance and paid program supplies.
 - ✿ Program and Operations Center, to be located at Camp Belzer. This new center will have, among other things, an interactive history and archive center to celebrate Scouting's past.
 - ✿ Various camp improvements, including a significant enhancement to Camp Krietenstein.
 - ✿ Technology solution for volunteers that enable volunteers to spend less time on administrative matters and more time serving as mentors to youth. Online registration for all events, advancement and purchasing program-related items are just some of the possible enhancements to the council's current technology plan.
 - ✿ Exploring and Venturing program enhancements. While most of us know involved in Scouting understand that Exploring and Venturing are great ways to involve older youth (including young women), much of the general public is not aware of the many benefits of these programs. An initiative to increase and expand these programs will be included in the campaign.

Why are we making all of these changes?

We can all agree that Scouting is a wonderful organization that brings out the best in both youth and adult members. Scouting is the right choice for families, but it may not always be an easy choice for various reasons, such as:

- ✿ Low income families may find even the modest costs - in dollars or time - of Scouting a barrier.
- ✿ The broad array of Scouting's programs can be confusing to parents of new Scouts, as well as adults wanting to volunteer and help Scouts.
- ✿ Inexperienced Scouts and parents can find the outdoor environment we use as our classroom unfamiliar.

It is for these reasons, as well as others, that the volunteers of the council have made the decision for these significant improvements and changes. You, as a key member of our constituency, will hear more about these exciting additions to Crossroads of America Council, and how you can be involved. In the meantime, if you have thoughts or comments on these preliminary plans, which have been designed to make volunteer's roles easier and more fulfilling, please contact Scout Executive Scott Clabaugh at the Indianapolis Roesch Scout Service Center at (317) 925-1900, or at sclabaugh@crossroadsbsa.org

Scoutreach Mentoring

What Is OA Scoutreach Mentoring?

Remember when you joined your first Scout troop as a young boy? In your troop there were older, more experienced Scouts to lead, to set the example, to teach you skills, and to direct your program.

Many of our Scoutreach units do not have experienced senior Scouts to teach skills, run meetings, plan programs, or go camping and hiking with confidence.

That is where the OA Scoutreach Mentoring program comes in! The OA Scoutreach Mentoring program brings together Scouting's best—members of the Order of the Arrow — Scouting's "National Honor Society" — with Scouting's neediest—our urban and rural Scoutreach units.

Members of the Order of the Arrow will provide, on an as-needed basis, specific temporary assistance to Scoutreach units. Matching exceptional skills to critical needs is what the OA Scoutreach Mentoring program is all about, and the results show in the quality of Scouts this program produces.

FAQ—OA Scoutreach Mentoring

- Q. Why did the Order of the Arrow create this program?
A. The OA Scoutreach Mentoring program is a joint creation of the Scoutreach and the National Order of the Arrow committees. The Order of the Arrow supports the mission of Scoutreach and recognizes the importance of making Scouting available to every boy in America.
- Q. What can I do to help start the OA Scoutreach Mentoring program in my lodge?
A. Talk to your council's Scoutreach committee or district committee, lodge chief, and adviser to get their support and approval to start the program in your council or district. Next, organize a lodge service committee to implement the program.

- Q. Is the OA Scoutreach Mentoring program only for Scoutreach troops?
A. No. The program was created to help out any urban or rural Scout troop whose camping and advancement programs need help.
- Q. Is the OA Scoutreach Mentoring program available for helping Cub Scout packs as well as Scout troops?
A. The program is designed to help Boy Scout troops with their hiking, camping, and outdoor programs. The primary goal of the Mentoring program, however, is to provide assistance to local council's Scoutreach program. If requested, the OA Scoutreach mentor should assist the council where the need is greatest.
- Q. Will serving as a Scoutreach mentor interfere with my activities with my own unit?
A. No, your first duty is to your unit. Being a Scoutreach mentor should not interfere with participation in your unit.
- Q. How long does a typical action plan take to complete?
A. Each action plan is unique, and may take six months to one year to complete; however, a minimum of three months or 45 hours of service is expected in order to apply for the recognition award.
- Q. Is OA Scoutreach Mentoring just for the youth members, or can adults be involved?
A. Adults can play a key role in the OA Scoutreach Mentoring program. Scoutreach units need adult volunteer assistance, and adult-level training as well as the program assistance the youth can provide. Additionally, adults can help with resources and transportation.
- Q. As an adult Scoutreach mentor, how can I work most effectively with my district commissioner?
A. Communicate the purpose of the program and keep your district commissioner informed about the progress of the program. The district commissioner should be your best supporter.
- Q. Where can I get additional information about the OA Scoutreach Mentoring program?
A. The National Order of the Arrow website (www.oa-bsa.org) has additional information about the program. You can contact the Scoutreach Division at the national office. You can also call Dr. David Briscoe, National Scoutreach Committee, Mentoring Committee Chairman, at 501-952-3070, or Tico Perez, National OA Committee, OA Scoutreach Mentoring chairman at 407-649-4007.

Jaccos Towne Lodge is planning a Scoutreach event for the fall. More information will be coming in the next newsletter, and a mentoring application is included in this newsletter!

Leadership Training Opportunities: White Stag Junior Leader Training

What is White Stag Junior Leader Training?

White Stag is a seven-day outdoor experience for youth leaders in support of the Scoutmaster's responsibility for the training of troop junior leaders. The council leadership training committee conducts White Stag using an outline approved by the Boy Scout Division of the Boy Scouts of America.

Location: Redwing Scout Camp, Muncie, IN

Dates: June 10-16 or July 15-21, 2007

Cost: $160.00

What is its Purpose?

Scouting recognizes that Scoutmasters have the responsibility of training their own junior leaders. The purpose of White Stag is not to assume that role, but to support it. The objectives of White Stag are:

- To give participants the confidence and knowledge to run the troop program.
- To give participants a basic knowledge of the eleven skills of leadership and help them relate these skills to their home troop responsibilities.
- To give participants the opportunity to share ideas and experiences with Scouts from other troops.
- To create an atmosphere where Scouts will experience Scouting at it's best.
- To enhance the relationship between the Scoutmaster and the participant.
- To have fun.

Winter Gathering Recap

A small but enthusiastic group attended the Indian Gathering at Camp Kikthawenund in January. Activities included training on inductions and ceremonies and making of various Indian crafts. More pictures from the Gathering are available on the Lodge website.

Advisor's Corner

Introduced at the 1981 National Order of the Arrow Conference, the Founder's Award was created to honor and recognize those Arrowmen who have given outstanding service to their lodge. The award is reserved for an Arrowmen who demonstrates to fellow Arrowmen that he or she memorializes in his or her everyday life the spirit of achievement as described by founder E. Urner Goodman and cofounder Carroll A. Edson.

Nominations are due in the fall and presentations are made at the Winter Banquet in December. A form is included on page 11. Think about the Arrowmen you know. Are they worthy? Consider making a nomination!

From the Editor's Wigwam

What is Jump Start?

Jump Start is a program designed specifically for the new member of the Order of the Arrow. The OA would like new Arrowmen to get off to a good start, so it has gathered the information a new Arrowman needs to be successful and put it online - where it's easy to access.

On the Jump Start website (<http://www.jumpstart.oa-bsa.org/>), the new or experienced Arrowman can catch a glimpse of the OA's rich history, discover more about the Ordeal experience, and learn how to seal membership in the Order by taking the next step: Brotherhood membership.

Jump Start can and should be introduced to new Arrowmen after their Ordeal. Many Chapters introduce the program during the Ordeal weekend on the morning after the Ordeal Ceremony. Resources are available from the National Website.

Consider including Jump Start in your Chapter Ordeal and giving your new Arrowmen a jump start in the OA!

Yours in Scouting,

Benjamin Grimes

Crossover Thank You

A huge "Thank You" goes out to all the OA Ceremonialists who participated in Webelos Arrow of Light and Crossover Ceremonies this winter. The Arrow of Light/Crossover Ceremony is often the first time Cub Scouts are exposed to the Order of the Arrow. Participation in the OA, and especially in ceremonies, can date from this exposure. It is also another way that Arrowmen give Cheerful Service to Scouting, and it is appreciated by the packs, the troops, and the Lodge!

Lodge has a number of Committee Chair positions open! If you are interested in getting involved at Lodge level, contact any one of the officers or advisors.

Tracking the OA Sash

Through Time

by Devang Desai
Order of the Arrow National Bulletin, vol 51 Issue 1 & Issue 2
Copyright © 1999 Boy Scouts of America

Since its beginning in 1915, the Order of the Arrow has recognized its members with a visible sign of membership--the Order of the Arrow sash. Although times have changed, use of the OA sash has remained fairly constant.

According to the Order's fifth Vigil Honor member, Harry A. Yoder, in the early days of the Order the members wore black sashes with a white stripe running lengthwise instead of the white sash with the red arrow. The original sash was black because it offered a great contrast to the white bar and it blended well with the black ceremonial robes. (Yoder also served as a guide and guardian in the first OA ceremony, on July 16, 1915.)

original black "band" with white stripe

[This is contrary to what BSA National promoted for the 75th Anniversary, when awards and other memorabilia depicted the first black sashes had white arrows. In 1992, when I was serving in Woodland District, Philadelphia Council, I was told by several Unami Lodge officers and members that these first sashes had white stripes, not arrows. That same year, Unami issued several flaps (s14 and s15) that depicted this. This is also supported by the 60th Anniversary First Degree Ritual reenactment that Dr. Goodman attended and posed with. (To be continued next issue.)
