LODGE CHIEF'S TALKING FEATHER

Brothers, it is with great joy that I congratulate those of you who joined our brotherhood, and those of you who sealed their membership this month at your chapter ordeals. I sincerely hope that you walk away from these experiences with a newfound understanding, not just of the Order of the Arrow, but of how you can better be a servant leader to those who chose you. I know that many of you are still unfamiliar with the Order of the Arrow, but I encourage you all, even those brothers reading this who have been members for some time now, to set aside some time and reflect back upon your ordeal. I ask that you think not only about the meaning of the event and all the things you did, but of how you can help make your ordeals better events.

Speaking of ways to help make our events better, our Lodge elections and chapter are quickly approaching. Those of you interested in being a lodge officer will need to get approval from your Scoutmaster, Chapter Chief, and Chapter Adviser. If you have any interest in being a lodge officer, I strongly urge you to reach out to the person currently holding that position to see what the job entails. Being a lodge or chapter officer is one of the most rewarding experiences you can have as a youth.

With the wealth of opportunities available to you this centennial year, there should be every opportunity for you to get involved. I promise you that if you want to get involved, we will have a way you can do that.

Yours in Scouting,
Robby Kile

Centennial Anniversary

Centennial Arrowman Service Award

The Arrowman Service Award (ASA) was released as an opportunity for Arrowmen to commemorate the Order's centennial anniversary and deepen their participation in the 2015 celebration. To earn the award, an Arrowman must complete three categories of criteria with various requirements by December 31, 2015. These categories are personal growth, Scout service and 100th events. Each contains a required task and then several other requirements to choose from, so that Arrowmen have options when completing the award.

Forms with the requirements are available on the Jaccos Towne Lodge website at: www.jaccostownelodge.org (Resources tab). Please be aware that there are different forms for youth and adults so make sure you use the correct one! Completed forms may be turned in to Chapter Advisers or the Lodge Adviser.

The LEC has voted to give one centennial Arrowman Service Award patch to each Arrowman in the lodge who earns it. This patch is meant to be worn on the sash and is the only patch so authorized!
